The Department of Agriculture promotes agricultural interests of the state and develops safeguards to protect the public from disease and unsanitary conditions in connection with food production and food handling, product labeling, dairy products, animals, and plants. The department also protects consumers by enforcing laws relating to food safety, standard weights and measures, farm produce storage, and dairy products; inspection and enforcement of animal health; control of plant pests and diseases; and perishable fruits and vegetables.

The department is composed of 7 divisions: Animal Industry, Environmental Stewardship, Executive, Finance and Administrative Services, Food and Dairy, Laboratory, and Pesticide and Plant Pest Management.

The Animal Industry Division is responsible for programs to control and eradicate reportable contagious, infectious, and communicable diseases of livestock, poultry, and equine and companion animals; controlling contamination from toxic substances; enforcing the humane treatment of animals; and promoting Michigan animal industries.

The Environmental Stewardship Division provides assistance and support to soil conservation districts, drainage boards, and land users, enabling them to carry out programs that maintain food and fiber productivity, control erosion, protect water quality, protect groundwater, and protect a favorable environment.

The Executive Office houses the Office of the Director, who is responsible for policy development, department strategic planning, daily operations and more. The following department functions also fall under the Executive Office: Budget, Emergency Management, Communications, Legislative Liaison, and support for the Michigan Commission of Agriculture.

The Finance and Administrative Services Division administers business processes for the department, including accounting, procurement, facility management, and mail operations. The division also oversees the fiscal data needed to assure the timely, accurate, and efficient use of MDA resources.

The Food and Dairy Division administers programs that enforce laws and regulations that govern the safety and wholesomeness of food and food products; regulates the commercial handling of farm produce; administers food sanitation programs; assures a safe, high-quality supply of dairy products.

The Human Resources Division, working under the Civil Service Commission, provides all personnel, labor relations, training programs, and equal employment opportunity services.

The Laboratory Division provides analytical, diagnostic, and technical support to the regulatory divisions of the department and to other state and federal agencies. The division also prevents economic fraud and deception in the area of weights and measures, labeling, and advertising; and it regulates the sale and quality of motor fuel.

The Pesticide and Plant Pest Management Division administers programs to enforce laws and regulations to prevent the introduction and dissemination of serious plant and bee pests; to prevent the adulteration of animal food, unsanitary grain storage facilities, and misuse of pesticides; and to provide assurance that animal feeds and remedies, fertilizers, seeds, and pesticides are accurately labeled. It also provides for grading, inspection, and certification of fruits and vegetables. The division also administers the Grain Dealers Act and the Farm Produce Insurance Act.

Another key unit of the department is the Office of Agriculture Development, which is responsible for promoting and providing market opportunities for the Michigan food and agriculture industry, developing economic opportunities in value-added food processing and in international and new market development, helping develop the economic viability of sustainable agriculture, and assisting the Michigan Economic Development Corporation locate and expand agricultural-related businesses in Michigan.
